

Deal or No Deal - Actons Personal Injury Team warns of the dangers of RSI

Repetitive strain injury (RSI) poses a threat to employees working in all types of businesses. TV quiz show host Noel Edmonds has been diagnosed with RSI as a result of answering the Bakelite telephone on his Channel 4 show, "Deal or No Deal".

Commenting on the pain that occurs in his right shoulder Noel said: "It's a bit ridiculous, but I'm in agony".

If you think that you have suffered RSI as a result of your work, or any other injury within the last three years that was somebody else's fault, then contact the Actons Personal Injury Team on our Personal Injury Helpline on freephone 08081 355 355 or email enquiries@actons.co.uk

Ends: July 2006

James Chapman
Personal Injury
Actons Solicitors
2 King Street
Nottingham
NG1 2AX

Tel: 0115 9 100 200
Fax: 0115 9 100 290
Email: enquiries@actons.co.uk